

Botanical Name: Dracaena surculosa

Common Name: Gold dust dracaena

Type of Plant: monocot: houseplant Character evergreen

Habit of Growth:

Overall Shape shrubby, upright plant with irregular branching -- broad gold-spotted leaves

Height 3-5' Spread 2-4' Growth Rate slow

Environment:

Exposure indoor takes low light -- fairly low humidity

Soil takes average potting soil

Hardiness prefers warm temperatures

Morphology:

Leaves broadly elliptic, abruptly narrowed at each end, irregularly spotted with white or yellow

Flowers raceme, yellow flowers to 3/4" long

Fruit drupe, orange 3/8" diameter

Propagation: stem cuttings, division

Usage: single specimen plant, good accent plant for striking form and color

Landscape Care:

Watering takes regular watering

Fertilizing balanced, half-strength, monthly

Pruning none

Pests/Diseases mealybug, salt burn

Special Conditions may get salt burn on leaf tips

Origin: Trop.Africa Family: Agavaceae