

Botanical Name: Juniperus sargentii

Common Name: Sargent juniper

Type of Plant: conifer; shrub Character evergreen

Habit of Growth:

Overall Shape ground hugging, blue-gray juniper with fairly coarse needle-like foliage, becomes dense with age

Height to 1 ft. Spread 8' - 10' Growth Rate slow-moderate

Environment:

Exposure outdoors full sun to partial sun

Soil any well-drained soil

Hardiness hardy (all zones)

Morphology:

Leaves needle like, to 1/4" long, densely set on branches - somewhat lighter and coarser than J. procumbens 'Nana'

Flowers none

Fruit none

Propagation: semi or hardwood cuttings in fall or winter

Usage: low filler or large-scale groundcover for rock gardens, oriental landscapes, temperate or forest landscapes; frequent bonsai specimen

Landscape Care:

Watering takes average water; looks best in soils with good drainage and moderate watering

Fertilizing organic or slow-release in fall

Pruning hide all pruning cuts, head back to control size

Pests/Diseases juniper blight, spider mites, tip moth

Special Conditions

Origin: East Asia Family: Cupressaceae